Ann Schrader, The Denver Post

GOLDEN - Alison Bowen was sentenced Friday to 45 days in jail and two years of probation for her role in a March 13 crash that killed another girl and injured a young man. Bowen, 16, was in the back seat of her parents' Ford Explorer when the driver, Nanette Lafleur, 17, veered across the median on West Alameda Parkway and hit a Honda Accord head-on.

Killed in the Honda was Samara Stricklen, a 17-year-old Bear Creek High School student who was headed to the movies with Seth Mutschler, who now is 21. Mutschler, who was driving, survived severe injuries.

Immediately after the crash, according to a grand jury indictment issued in June, Lafleur asked Bowen to get into the driver's seat and Lafleur got out.

Bowen was charged with attempting to influence a public servant and DUI for driving under the influence earlier that evening. Ann Schrader, The Denver Post
